A QUESTIONNAIRE RESPONSE:
"SOME PROGRAMS STINK"

Summer is great for some people. Think of the fantastic weather, for instance! You want to be out and about on trips, hikes, etc. But it's not so nice for us at KRAB, because it means we get short of volunteers. Right now -- with our Big Move coming at the end of August (IT'S ALMOST HERE) -- we need hands, feet, warm bodies, and ENERGY. KRAB needs Engineers (persons in possession of 3rd Class FCC Licenses with Broadcast Endorsement). If you don't have one, but would like to work toward one, you can join one of the collective study groups we're forming. Also, we want to hold occasional WORKSHOPS to initiate new people, getting them on friendly terms with our unusual station and its eccentric equipment. For more information, we hope you'll contact Chris Miner or Polly Duarte at 325-5110 just as soon as you can. We want to encourage everybody who's really interested (ESPECIALLY WOMEN), no matter what your age is.

Two poets reading from their own works.

11:00 STAR WARS!!
--and other music of John T. Williams. Paul Stanbery plays an interstellar nocturne of Korngoldesque music for the science fiction swashbuckler, then plays selections from Williams' other music, ranging from his music for the Count Basie band for TV's M-Squad to an avant garde Symphony for Winds, from the Petula Clark musical based on Goodbye, Mr. Chips to a disaster suite of music from Earthquake, The Towering Inferno and Jaws; from scores to films ranging from the syrupy Valley of the Dolls to the unnerving Altman film Images; from arrangements for Andre Previn's piano-cum-strings to the Stan Kenton Neophonic Orchestra.

GEORGE LUCAS, "STAR WARS" DIRECTOR

STU WITMER SIGNING ON IN THE MORNING

WEDNESDAY 3

6:00 AM EARLY MUSIC
Old Rise 'N Shine Witmer's at it again, and, at 8:45, a book review with Richard Roth.

10:00 AM MORNING READING
James Thurber's There's A Time For Flags, A Call on Mrs. Forester, and A Final Note on Chanda Bell. Read by Vincent Deleers.

10:30 KRABJAZZ
With the relentlessly esoteric John Rogers until the relentlessly esoteric hour of two.

2:00 PM REQUEST A REQUEST
What'll it be? A French-Canadian arm-wrestling championship, live from Smooth Rock Falls? A pint of rhubarb sizzling on the stove? A reading of the Kenosha phone book? How about your favorite, little-aided music (please, if you value Stu Witmer's sensibilities, no more Jan and Dean) -- yes, we can help you there too. Request a request by calling KRAB Central at 325-5110.

4:00 PM "...GOOD, THOUGH!"
Having (sniff, sniff) recovered from his cold, Adam Woog continues to play quirky music and read a story or two. As Paul Haines would say, "One never know, do one?"

5:30 PM JAWBREAKER
Readings by Peggy Deleers, continuing C.S. Lewis' The Chronicles of Narnia.

6:00 PM PLANXTY KRAB

7:30 GETTING YOUR GARDEN OFF THE GROUND
Monty West spends this Friday evening helping you build a winter garden. He has maintained a highly productive outdoor garden in Wallingford for seven years. He composts and mulches with leaves, grass, seaweed, manure, and nettles. The soil is soft and full of worms. Weeding is easy, water unnecessary, replanting and digging rare as correctly harvested vegetables become perennial or re-seed themselves. You can feed yourself luxuriantly on a tiny city plot, supplemented by wild city vegetables.

10:30 ADAMS/ROEBUCK COMEDY PROGRAM
Silliness from Mrs. Hollywood and the boys. Look out! -- The ladder's falling !!!

11:00 BUMBLING & BEYOND
Another of those all-night jazz and eccentricities parties, where Baltic is joined by guest host Jeff Follette and a zany band of lunatics to give you 12 and 1/2 long hours of mostly music. Possibly some live music. Possibly some poetry. Possibly crazy. This will absolutely be the last all-night bumble from the firehouse.

FREE RADIO COSTS MONEY -- Help by making a tax-deductible contribution, payable to KRAB-FM. Subscription donations go to operating expenses, and entitle members to receive the monthly program guide and other special benefits.

8:00 MUSIC OF THE ENVIRONMENT: THE WORLD SOUNDSCAPE PROJECT
Tird in a series originally produced for CBC-FM by the World Soundscape Project, Simon Fraser University, Vancouver, B.C., dealing with various aspects of the acoustic environment. Tonight's program is entitled "Games," prepared by one of the Project members, composer Bruce Davis, it explores the ritualistic aspects of sports and other games.

9:00 CAPT. BALTIC'S BOP STOP
Although not a bebop musician in style, the late Ben Webster influenced many bop tenorists with his warm, forceful tone. A beautiful ballad player as well as an up-tempo artist,, Webster remains in spirit with players beyond bebop, especially Sonny Rollins, Archie Shepp, and their followers.

10:30 TENANT'S RIGHTS
On June 28, the Seattle Tenant's Union held a community forum on Tenant's Rights. Implications of the recent Washington State Supreme Court decision on the Landlord-Tenant Act is reviewed, as well as an extensive run-down on specifics of tenant's rights. Music by Peter Constantini.

11:30 THE PROMISCUOUS DREAMER
Paul Stanbery says listening to music without paying attention is like making love when your mind's on something else. Maybe he should know, since he's starting a series on the art of listening tonight in which he'll attempt to make awareness of musical detail no more of a turn-off than getting acquainted with a lover's body. (Well, not much more.) Pristine musical selections from other cultures, rock, jazz, and classics are used to build an appreciation of the subtleties in our Western Musical Heritage with an emphasis on do rather than talk.

WEDNESDAY 17

6:00 AM EARLY MUSIC
with Stu Witmer and, at 8:45, From New Books with Richard Roth.

10:00 THE MORNING READING with Kathy Bottoms reading from the works of Dorothy Parker.

8:30 ROBERT GARFIAS
Music and explications with the University of Washington ethnomusicologist.

10:00 HERE THEY COME, BUT WHERE WILL THEY GO?
North Slope Alaska oil is on the way to Puget Sound, where oil ports are as unpopular as petroleum is loved. Speaking about the question "Where will all the tankers go?" will be: Dr. James Crutchfield, economist; Rep. King Lysen, Chairman of the House Energy & Utilities Committee; Ruth Wiener, Dean of Huxley Environmental College; Jay Pierson, Executive Director of the Coalition Against Oil Pollution, and, hopefully, a representative from Arco. Produced by Doug Van Dyke and Phil Andrus.

11:00 AND SOMETHING ELSE

7:00 INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Produced by John Smith and the International News Action Team.

7:30 SOME VERY OLD AND SOME VERY NEW MUSIC

Yet another of Adam Woog's somewhat perverse musical whims; solo soprano saxophone improvisations by the Englishman Evan Parker juxtaposed with chants from an ancient sect of Buddhist monks. Some remarkable similarities and disparities emerge.

7:50 BENDING ZEN

When some people finish their latest Alan Watts or D.T. Suzuki book they decide it would be exciting to travel to an actual Zen monastery. What is the reality they encounter? What are the problems Zen priests encounter from people who don't understand the language, who insist on intellectualizing about a non-verbal experience, and even question their authority? This is a discussion with Glenn Webb, an art history teacher at the U.W. who has spent several years in Japan practicing Zen and has taken many students to Zen monasteries. Also, Zen students speak to the question of Zen studies in the west, and how it differs from the Oriental experience.

8:50 LIVE RENAISSANCE MUSIC FOR LUTE AND SOPRANO

A concert with lutenist Stephen Stubbs and soprano Betty Gaskill, performing works of Dowland, Purcell, and others.

7:30 TWICE THE WILDERNESS: The Alaska D-2 Hearings
This June one of a series of hearings on the Alaska D-2 lands was held in Seattle. The hearings, chaired by Reps. John Seiberling (Ohio) and Don Young (Alaska), concern House Resolution 39, introduced into the House by Rep. Morris Udall. It deals with the Alaska National Interest Lands, 114 million acres which, if so designated, would more than double the existing wilderness land in America. The main support for H.R. 39 has come from the Alaska Coalition, an aggregate of environmental groups; the main opposition has come from the pro-development Western Environmental Trade Association (W.E.T.A.). This program presents excerpts from the Seattle hearing, presented by topic and narrated by Janus Masi and Steve Simpson. It is designed to present listeners with a step-by-step introduction to this fascinating and vital issue.

9:30 THE GREAT EXCELSIOR JAZZ BAND
(recorded live at the Century Tavern)
An opportunity to hear one of the "hot" bands from this territory (Seattle) play before a loose and appreciative crowd -- the clinking of glasses and stomping of feet -- a romp in Seattle jazz.

 incisive analysis.

8:00 MUSIC OF THE ENVIRONMENT: THE WORLD
SOUNDSCAPE PROJECT
 Fifth in a series originally produced by the World Soundscape Project, Simon Fraser University, Vancouver, B.C., dealing with various aspects of the acoustic environment.
 Tonight's program is a delightful exploration into the nature of Our favorite media, entitled "A Radio Show About Radio," prepared by sociologist/healer/soundscape/musician
 Howard Broomfield.

9:00 CAPT. BALTIC'S BOP STOP
 Number 14 in the bebop-related tenor series, tonight's featured artist is the late Wardell Gray. Beginning in Count Basie's band, Gray developed from a Lester Young-influenced player into a full-blown bopper much in the style of Sonny Stitt. One of the few West Coast musicians of the late 40's who understood Charlie Parker's message to reedmen, he unfortunately died at 34 -- without the full recognition due him.

10:30 THE GOSPELSHIP: Baptist Hymns &
 White Spirituals from the Southern Mountains
 These austere a capella songs were recorded in Kentucky and Alabama by Alan Lomax and range from old-time lining-out and shape-note singing to "modern" Gospel and even a faithful reproduction of a recording by Blind Lemon Jefferson. The extreme conservatism of the text and melody contrasts strikingly with the rhythmic freedom and varied ornamentation. Included are fascinating, fervent glimpses into the testimony of the fundamentalist preachers who lead the singing.

11:00 THE PROMISCUOUS DREAMER: The Enigmatic Cycle
 Paul Stanbery runs you through a symphonic gauntlet: the wildly inspired 1st and 2nd
 ("The Double") Symphonies of Henri Dutilleux;
 the Pulitzer-Prize-winning "Wandering Jew" Symphony #3 and agonized "Jeptha" symphonic poem (Symphony #5) of Viennese-American Ernst Toch, and the almost-totally-unheard Symphony #4 of Heitor Villa-Lobos, the prolific Brazilian composer of whose 12 symphonies this is the only one recorded.
 Also film music of epic proportions;
 Villa-Lobos The Discovery of Brazil and other enigmatic selections (the Dutilleux is a must for "with-it" classicists, as his music is The Coming Thing).

EVERYBODY PITCHES IN TO HELP BUILD THE NEW KRAB STUDIOS

WEDNESDAY 31

6:00 AM EARLY MUSIC

 Holst.

10:30 KRABJAZZ
 The Life and Times of John Rogers. But only until two.

2:00 PM REQUEST A REQUEST
 Make your radio obey you. Ask it to bark, to cry, to roll over on its side. It's your chance to make up your own radio program and you better not waste it. Call 325-5110 for pointers.

4:00 "...GOOD, THOUGH!"
 Music and afternoon hoopla (or, as Jeff would say, "a General Messaround time") with Adam Woog.

8:00 ENVIRONMENTAL NEWS
 with Phil Andrus and Chris Minerd.

8:30 ROBERT GARFIAS
 Music and observations by the University of Washington ethnomusicologist.

10:00 EDIBLE AND MEDICINAL PLANTS OF
 THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST
 Dr. William Mitchell continues his series on medicinal plants native to or cultivated in the Pacific Northwest. The three plants discussed this evening are comfrey, avina sativa (oats), and eupatorium perfoliatum (boneset).
 Topics include their edibility, the constituents that set them aside as medicines, historical information, and Indian usages of these plants.

11:00 AND SOMETHING ELSE
 with Natasha.

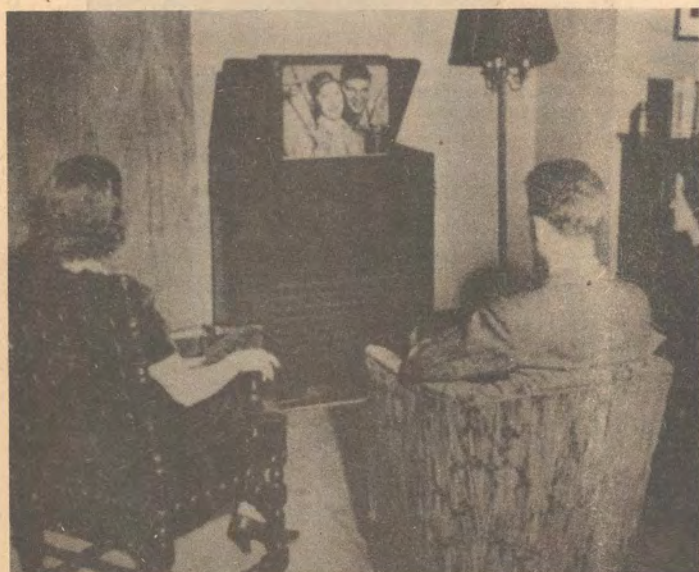

2:00 AM KRAB COUNTRY
 Country & Western with Wade Hockett.

KRAB of the FUTURE!

Yes, even now, with the Great Move looming over us (send money!!) our untiring engineers are working on a way to make this the wave of the future. Imagine not only hearing your favorite Krab program but seeing it too! Just think: it'd be just like having the City Council or the Krabettes or Robotnor or Kirby (Banana Bread) Cooper right in your living room. 'Ain't life grand.
